Blood Is Shed In Warsaw When An Attempt Is Made To Close The Stores.

ST. PETERSBURG IS ALL PROTECTED

Cossacks Aid Loyal Garrison In Keeping Down Demonstrations On Anniversary Of "Red" Sunday.

[Special by Scripps-McRae.]

Warsaw, Russian Poland, Jan. 23.—Troops began firing on gatherings of Socialists late Monday, but up to that time the observation of "Red Sunday" anniversary was without serious disturbance. The strike of employees of the factories was complete, and the first bloodshed was the result of Socialists attempting to make shopkeepers in the Witowski market close their establishments.

Troops Clear the Streets.
St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—This city has been an immense armed camp. Determined to crush with an iron hand any attempt at open demonstration on the anniversary of "Red Sunday," the troops stationed here and the local police force was added a large number of Cossacks from all the neighboring garrisons.

All prominent streets have been swept by infantry and cavalry, all attempts to hold meetings have been frustrated, and the populace in the thickly populated sections have been compelled to stay within their houses. The frequent patrols at all the streets were marched at wide intervals.

val's 10th Battalion formation. The streets were crowded with people, many of them wearing bands of crepe on their arms.

General Strike Unsuccessful.
Monday here was uneventful, except for the stoppage of work at some of the factories, but the attempt to make the strike general was a failure. A large proportion of the workmen disregarded the appeal. The electric light plants and street car service are both working and the stores are open everywhere. The change from normal life is scarcely noticeable, except in the industrial quarters of the city.

All was quiet, even the most turbulent being overawed by the imposing military preparations. Near the Narva gate the Putloff thoroughfare was patrolled by policemen in squads of five, carrying pistols in addition to their short swords. At the Putloff works, where all except 4,000 of the men have been paid off on account of lack of contracts, crowds of unemployed workmen gathered in front of the gates, hoping to secure work.

CONTINUE EXAMINATION IN THE PACKERS' CASE TODAY

District Attorney Morrison Has His Innings This Morning, And Makes Things Hum.

[Special by Scripps-McRae.]

Chicago, Jan. 23.—United States Attorney Morrison this morning replied to the charges of bad faith made by the packers against the government in the beef case. He declared the packers attempted to create prejudice against the prosecution so a verdict would shield the defendants. He demanded nothing but a fair trial and just administration of the laws. The defendants' attorneys made no objections to the ruling of the court that after Morrison had made his statements calling the packers' lawyers guilty of trickery, and asked that the government be allowed ed the same great latitude that had been given the defendants in making their opening statements. Mr. Morrison called his opponents "corporation and trust" lawyers. The crux of the government's contention and admissions upon which it based its suit is not made under the oath, therefore the immunity of the laws is unapplicable. Mr. Morrison declared they thought of the immunity as an afterthought. Charge after charge made by Morrison the court ruled it to be proper for him to prove. The defendants drew the prosecutors' fire by objecting. Mr. Morrison said he would call the attorneys as witnesses to prove his contentions.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

Favors Suffrage

Berlin, Jan. 23.—Prince Louis of Bavaria has announced that he favors "universal" manhood suffrage, declaring a monarchy is safest when upheld by the people. The court circles at Berlin are offended.

New York News

New York, Jan. 23.—The steamer Trojan, bound from Philadelphia for Boston, sunk, but the crew was saved. Rhineland, ex-army officer, clubman and millionaire, was appointed first deputy police commissioner today.

Plan Blockade

Washington, Jan. 23.—France will blockade the Venezuelan coast. It is learned orders to this effect were issued at the naval office in Paris for transmission to the squadron in the Caribbean waters.

Another Failure

Pittsburg, Jan. 23.—E. D. Gartner & Co., stock brokers, has assigned. Their liabilities are two hundred thousand dollars.

Vessels Safe

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—The Vladivostok squadron, reported lost, is safe in the harbor at Colombo, Ceylon.

Extra Troops

Paris, Jan. 23.—The Germans have recalled the extra troops sent into the garrisons on the western frontier.

At Johnstown

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 23.—The business portion of Johnstown, the famous flooded city, is again suffering from a flood. The cellars under all the buildings in the business district are filled almost to the sidewalks, and much merchandise is ruined. The water is at a stage of twelve feet in the Conemaugh river. If the river continues as it has in the past eighteen hours a serious flood is likely to result. People in the lowlands in the outskirts are forced into the second floors or out of the district entirely. One street railway line has suspended. The fire department is busy pumping.

Oldest Known English Pictures

The oldest known English pictures are a portrait of Chaucer, painted on panel about 1350, and that of Henry IV. in 1405. The art of drawing is of extreme antiquity, being at least as old as the Egyptian hieroglyphics, which were invented about 2122 B. C.

Cookery of the Past

Though the oyster was known and eaten in the fourteenth century, it was thought to lack flavor, so they seethed it in wine with ground almonds and rice, powdered ginger, sugar and mace. A curious thing about old cookery books is their silence concerning quantity. "Take pigges yscalded," "take eels," "take courages or rabbits," is all the information which is given.

HIGH "CHINKS" ARE IN WASHINGTON NOW

Most Exalted Visitors from the Chinese Country Arrive in Capital Today.

[Special by Scripps-McRae.]

Washington, Jan. 23.—The Chinese commissioners arrived in this city today and were met by Denby, chief clerk of the state department. Mr. Denby is familiar with the Chinese language and customs. The commissioners are quartered at the Arlington hotel and called upon Secretary Root this afternoon; also the departments of war, navy and state. A committee of the house interstate commerce commission again postponed a vote on the rate bill. Secretary Bonaparte sent this government's condolence on the loss of the battleship to Brazil. The President received the statehood insurgents and gave them a straight talk of his hope of putting the bill through tomorrow.

ARTHUR EDDINGTON WEEK-OLD BENEDICT

Was Married on Monday, January 15, to Miss Marie Williams of Racine, at Waukegan.

Arthur R. Eddington, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Eddington, and bookkeeper for the Fifield Bros. Lumber Co., has been a benedict for one week. Yet many of his most intimate friends who read this will learn for the first time of his new and happier estate. At the Presbyterian parsonage in Waukegan at the noon hour of Monday, January 15, he was quietly wedded to Miss Marie Williams, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams of Racine. The young couple returned to that city the same evening and the groom to Janesville on the day following. Since that time he has been quietly looking for a suitable house and he hopes to visit Racine on the coming Saturday or Sunday, claim his bride, and bring her back to Janesville and the new home. The wedding was not announced in Racine until yesterday. Mr. Eddington met his future wife while he was in the employ of the Racine Engine & Iron Works. She is a very popular young lady in that city and the groom's legion of friends in Janesville will extend the heartiest congratulations to both of them.

REPRESENT BELOIT PROPERTY OWNERS

Felthers, Jeffris & Mout Start Proceedings to Condemn Old Landmark.

[Special by Scripps-McRae.]

Beloit, Wis., Jan. 23.—An attachment was levied today upon the old Brooks Mill property at the end of Broad street in this city. The action is preliminary to condemnation proceedings that will be brought by a score or two of property-owners here and in South Beloit through their attorneys, Felthers, Jeffris & Mout of Janesville. The mill is an old landmark situated on Turtle creek and has long been in disuse. On Sunday last the swollen stream burst a dike upon the property and flooded a considerable district filling cellars, surrounding houses and barns and doing damage to forty buildings in all.

A DYING CARDINAL

Rome, Jan. 23.—Cardinal Girolamo Maria Gotti, the prefect of the propaganda, is dying of pneumonia.

STATE NOTES

Racine highwayman made an attempt to hold up C. L. James of Des Moines, Ia. He knocked one of the men down and they ran. James Sisk was held up and relieved of 50 cents.

Five from an overheated chimney in the Geiger block at Fox Lake yesterday afternoon threatened to cause a conflagration, but hard work by the local firemen saved the block with small loss.

Members of General Bancroft camp No. 16 of Racine, Spanish American War veterans, have received official notice that the state encampment will be held there on July 2, 3, and 4. The committees are arranging for the biggest celebration on July fourth known to the history of the city.

Within two or three days the Eberhard Manufacturing company of Cleveland, O., may purchase the Racine Malleable and Wrought Iron company. Representatives have for some time been looking over the property, which is located at Lakeside. The plant employs between 300 and 400 persons.

The annual collection for the American board of foreign missions in the Old South church, Boston, Sunday night amounted to $11,000, the largest ever made for congregational missions by any one parish in the country.

CHINESE AND FRENCH WAGE A BLOODY WAR

Reports from the East Tell of Invasion of French Territory by Chinese.

[Special by Scripps-McRae.]

Marseilles, Jan. 23.—The Chinese mail brings an account of the invasion on Tonquin French Indo-China by Chinese regulars, who encountered a French force of four hundred. The Chinese were defeated in a three-hour battle. Three hundred were killed and as many wounded. The French lost sixteen. A Franco-Chinese war is possible.

DAVIS MUST STAND TRIAL ON CHARGES

Owner of the Ill-Fated Iroquois Theatre Charged with Manslaughter.

[Special by Scripps-McRae.]

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Judge Kavanaugh today refused to quash the indictments in the Iroquois theatre case and held Will J. Davis, the manager for trial. Mr. Davis is charged with manslaughter in six different counts because of the death of Vica R. Jackson, one of the 922 victims. The first four counts allege negligence in failure to comply with the ordinances.

SEARCH FOR THE FAMILY BIBLE

Missing Volume Necessary to Settle Estate in the East.

Iowa Falls, Iowa, Jan. 23.—A search for an old family Bible is being made in central Iowa, as the location of the missing volume is necessary in closing up an estate in West Virginia. The old book contains names and dates that are needed to prove up the claims of the heirs, but the whereabouts of the Iowa branch of the family has been lost and all efforts to locate any of its members have thus far proven unavailing. The name of the family sought is Godfrey, and while the parents may be dead it is thought possible some of the children may be living in the state. The name of the mother was Rachel Emrick before her marriage to William Godfrey. She was a sister of Samuel Emrick, who died some time ago, and the supposition is the sister or some of her descendants have the missing Bible.

WOULD SHUT OUT DEMOCRATS.

Iowa Gerrymander to Make Congressmen All Republicans.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 23.—Representative Cummings introduced in the House a gerrymandering bill to make the Second Congressional district, the only Democratic district in the state, safely Republican by taking Johnson and Iowa counties out and adding them to the Fifth district, giving Jones and Cedar counties in exchange. This would place Congressman Cousins in the Second district, with apparently no hope for renomination. Senator Gale introduced an amendment to the constitution providing for woman's suffrage.

Prima Donna's Protege

New York, Jan. 23.—Lois Feurt, a Seattle (Wash.) girl, with a contralto voice, sung for Mme. Calve recently. The prima donna will adopt her and give her a musical education.

VERBAL COMBAT MARKS MEETING

French And German Delegates Engage In A Lively Skirmish Over Advantages.

THE MAIN QUESTION IS DELAYED

Tiffs Between The Suave Gaul And Stolid Teuton To Reach The Climax Over Settlement Of Control Of Moroccan Customs.

[Special to The Gazette.]

Algiers, Jan. 23.—There was almost a continuous skirmish between M. Revoil, head of the French delegation, and Count von Tattenbach, the second of Germany's delegates, in the Morocco conference Monday.

While the amenities were carefully observed, the other delegates were conscious that the day marked the beginning of fresh controversies between France and Germany which are likely to be long protracted and of increasing earnestness.

The style of fence displayed by the two plenipotentiaries suggested their differences of race. M. Revoil was keen, analytic of mind, skilful in fine diplomatic phrasings, and with a grace of expression and a winning personality. Count von Tattenbach was downright of speech and soldierly in manner, trusting to the solidity of his ideas and to his facts.

The two plenipotentiaries are not in sympathy, and draw apart outside the council room. Both are of high ambition, and it will be difficult for either to yield to the other.

France and Spain will have exclusive control of the Moroccan frontiers, so far as guarding them against the smuggling of arms into that kingdom is concerned. The Morocco customs authorities will guard the coast.

This is the effect of the report of the sub-committee appointed last week.

The general principle of the plan is to leave the coast surveillance with the Moroccan customs, but as the question of France's administering the customs comes up later, the Franco-German contention remains open.

Before seizing a foreign ship the customs authorities must notify the legation of the country to which the ship belongs. Pending action on the part of the legation at Tangier the Moroccan authorities shall install a guardian on board the ship. Upon the legation's approval of the seizure, the contraband cargo will be condemned; the proceeds going to the Moroccan treasury, while the fines will be distributed between the informers and the Moroccan treasury.

MITCHELL DENOUNCES RANDALL AND HEYWOOD

Brands Statements of Expelled Member and Secretary of Western Federation as Mass of Lies.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 23.—President John Mitchell was stirred into anger at Monday's session of the United Mine Workers, when Delegate A. F. Germal of Mount Olive, Ill., charged that some of the statements made by Robert Randall of Dietz, Wyo., last year were correct. Randall accused Mitchell of selling out the miners in the Colorado strike and was expelled as a result. Germal presented a letter from Secretary Heywood of the Western Federation of Miners denying the statement made in Mitchell's address of Saturday that Western Federation members were taking the places of the United Mine Workers on strike. Mr. Mitchell denounced Randall's speech last year and branded Heywood's statement as a lie, and cited the places where Western Federation miners had taken the strikers' places. President Mitchell strongly denounced those who said he had sold out the Colorado strike. He was loudly cheered.

MANY TO FACE GRAFT TRIALS

Milwaukee Politicians Will Be Arraigned in Court This Week.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 23.—The trial of the long list of Milwaukee politicians indicted by the grand jury on graft charges will be resumed before Judge Williams Wednesday or Thursday, when the case of the state against State Senator Barney A. Eaton is called. The case against Charles S. Havenor, the baseball magnate, will follow the Eaton case. Trials of supervisors and former supervisors will follow.

KANSAS OIL REFINERS PLEAD FOR SQUARE DEAL

Kansas Independents Appeal for Justice Against Alleged Conspiracy Shutting Out Their Product.

Chanute, Kan., Jan. 23.—The independent oil refiners of Kansas have mailed to James R. Garfield, commissioner of corporations of the department of commerce and labor, an appeal for justice against the conspiracy between the Standard Oil company and the railroads to shut Kansas oil out of the market.

The refiners who sign the appeal are Clifford Thorne, A. F. Robertson, P. S. Bennett, C. D. Webster, J. M. Cameron, H. Kaessmann, D. O. McGee, and C. E. Martin. These men own eight refineries now in operation, besides two in course of erection at Atchison and Kansas City, Kan. They have invested more than $1,000,000 in refineries, tank cars, storage tanks, wagons and barrels.

They claim that by reason of a conspiracy between the Standard Oil company and the railroad systems of the southwest, particularly those railroads operating in Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Arkansas and Iowa, and the territories of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, they are limited to the state of Kansas for a market for their refined oil; that to all points outside of Kansas the freight rates are unreasonably high and have been maintained at such unreasonably high rates for the express purpose and for no other purpose than to confine business of the independent refiners to the state of Kansas.

Havana, Ill., Jan. 23.—Harry Schonenfeld, aged 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Schonenfeld, living six miles west of Havana, was found dead by his parents with a bullet wound in the mouth and a 22-calibre revolver by his side. Grant Tiswell, aged 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tiswell, living seven miles west of Havana, was found dead with a wound in the stomach and a discharged shotgun by his side. The coroner's verdict in both cases was accidental death.

CITY COUNCIL TO TAKE STEPS

TO FIX A BOUNDARY LINE FOR ROCK RIVER.

PAVE THE FAMOUS MIDWAY

Sue the Street Railway Co., and Compel Owners of Halls to Provide Adequate Protection Against Fire.

Last night the city council met in regular session, Aldermen Murray and Fish being absent. The finance committee's report on bills and the salary list were passed upon and the clerk was instructed by an order to draw on the treasurer for $4 in favor of the Ashcraft Mfg. Co., that sum intended as a credit for the Janesville Water Co., having by mistake been sent to the city. He was also authorized to draw an order on the treasurer in favor of W. H. Appleby for $193.40 to pay all expenses connected with the purchase and shipment of the horse for the police patrol wagon.

Expenses in Engineer's Office.
This has been the busiest year in Janesville's history for the city engineer's office and the expenses have necessarily been larger than heretofore. $45,000 worth of sewer and street work has been done under the direction of Mr. C. V. Kerch. Levels have been run in ordinary streets and plans prepared for five new sewer districts. In addition to this there have been 370 applications for sidewalk grades to attend to and other miscellaneous business. City Clerk Badger's itemized accounting was as follows: Salary of the city engineer—$1,200; Salary of H. E. Beldinger (authorized by the council March 15)—$430; Salary of F. W. Kimball (authorized by the council March 6, '05)—$680; Salary of George J. Davis—$420; Other labor—$24.63; Telephone service—$12; Supplies—$128.82; Advertising and printing in street assessment work—$120.92; Total—$3,372.37.

Survey of Rock River.
Some weeks ago the attention of the council was directed to numerous encroachments on the Rock river by parties owning the shore property in the heart of the city, on either side. Pursuant to instructions, City Engineer Kerch made a survey of that section of the stream, lying between South First street and Fourth avenue and established boundary lines thereof. A large blue-print showing the work in detail was filed last evening. If the boundary line on the west side of the river is adopted, the Blodgett Milling Co. and others will still have a considerable space left to fill in but some of the owners of property nearer the Milwaukee street bridge will have to do some extensive excavating and dredging. Chairman Baumann of the highway committee asked for further time to consider the survey and plan and offered a resolution to the effect that his committee call a meeting of all property holders affected for discussion and consideration, sometime within the next two weeks. The resolution was adopted.

Miscellaneous Business.
Chairman Merritt of the judiciary committee asked and was granted further time to report on the notice of injury filed by Nicholas Walsh. The December report of the board of education was received and placed on file. Report was made that the special street improvement bonds for Milwaukee avenue, issued to cover assessments property holders had not elected to pay, had been sold to George G. Sutherland for $895, of which sum $14.35 was paid as a premium to be applied on the interest accruing from the said bonds. The actual interest will be 5% per cent. Mr. Sutherland was the only bidder. The bond and oath of George H. Palmer as constable of the first ward were approved. In accordance with a request made at the last meeting, the city clerk filed a report of all the brick used for cross-walks by former Street Commissioner Watson from Jan. 1, 1905, up to the end of his term.

The city treasurer directed to transfer from the 1st, 2d and 3d ward funds to the general fund certain amounts paid from the general fund for the construction of brick cross-walks, and likewise certain amounts from the 2d and 5th ward funds, now bankrupt, when the appropriations shall have been made.

A BRIEF COMPARISON MADE

Resume by Months of Texas Climate and Crops Compared to Wisconsin.

With the thermometer hovering about zero, the ground white with snow and the ponds and rivers frozen it is hard to realize that down in Neuge county, Texas, it is warm and pleasant. That their average winter days are like last Saturday and that vegetation is green and plants growing, making ready for the February market. Mr. Lee, of the firm of Fish, Lee & Fish, of Evansville, has received so many inquiries regarding this Mecca for farmers, that he is planning down to see the wonders for themselves. Persons interested in seeing this wonderful country will do well to write him at Evansville and make arrangements to join his party.

Special Car.
If eighteen are secured a hotel car can be taken and at an expense of two dollars a day sleeping accommodations and meals will be supplied. Mr. Lee has secured a rate of $20.15 for the straight ticket from Evansville to Texas and return, and it is an opportunity of a life time to visit this historic state. The trip will be a unique, out-of-the-way, well worth taking. A personal view of the rich lands of the southwestern portion of the state will convince the most skeptical that it is all that has been recommended for it. The trip will consume twenty-one days, and the final destination will be Corpus Christi or Alice, right in the center of the richest country in the world.

Four to six feet of the richest black loam that could be asked for. Such a trip is worth considering and Mr. Lee will be glad to answer all inquiries regarding it.

Just A Citation.
"I have been asked regarding the fruit growing possibilities," said Mr. Lee. "In reply I am going to quote directly from the report of Henry C. Stiles of Chicago, California, who recently visited southwestern Texas with a view of making a thorough inspection and investigation of the cultivation of oranges, lemons and citrus fruits, and has sent a most flattering report to General Passenger Agent Lupton of the Arkansas Pass Railway. Mr. Stiles is an expert on fruit cultivation and he has painted a glowing picture of the future of southwest Texas. He looks forward to splendid results in fruit growing here and believes the development will require but a short while."

In his report he says, among other things: "I have made a careful study of the south Texas country now being opened up for settlement. My investigations were principally along the lines of the possibility of growing citrus fruits practically and profitably. There is no question in my mind that oranges, lemons, saffron, grape fruit, etc., can be grown almost anywhere from Beville south, and probably further north. I never had an opportunity to investigate the country farther north of Beville. While there may be reasons that will prevent going back the trees in the northern part of this district, yet I found that they recover their fruiting capacity in a surprisingly short time. For instance, I made notes of lemon trees cut to the ground in 1899 (an unusual hard winter in Texas) that have been bearing again for the past two or three years, and this year bore five boxes, or over one thousand lemons on each tree."

The orange trees were also cut down the same year and they have been bearing for a year or two; this year over six hundred oranges to the tree, and nearly as many last year. I saw orange trees planted five years ago that have been bearing for the last two or three years and this year have borne over 125 to 250 oranges each."

"The oranges and lemons are very fine, as to size, texture of skin, flavor, sweetness, pulp, etc., and are much earlier than the usual season for these fruit varieties. I found lemons and oranges of surprising quality points, all of which could be improved if the people knew how to cultivate the soil and take care of the fruit. I speak from a California experience and will be glad to go into this matter in detail at any time. Everything considered, I am convinced that you have a second California, and it will not take long to develop it. I am quite sure that seedling oranges and other fruits are at least four weeks earlier than California."

"At Skidmore I found orange trees five years old that had been bearing ever since they were two years old. At Beville I found the Pomelo grape fruit, one of the choicest of all citrus fruits, the tree was only five years old, but the fruit of 1899, yet had 100 or more splendid large fruit this year of good commercial size and quality. At Fairburn I saw very large new truck farming and winter gardening operations, on quite a large scale, everything, very promising, and artesian wells and reservoirs that are a guarantee of absolute success. At Alice, I was particularly pleased with climate and productive soil. I saw lemons and oranges, all of fine variety and flavor."

A Comparison.
Take the following figures, and compare them with the same months in Wisconsin and then deduce your own results.

January—In January when the northern farmers are snowed under south Texas is shipping lettuce, radishes, turnips, beets and such other.

Fireman Gestlund is laying off.

Engineer J. H. Shekey is laying off, being relieved on the Barrington turn-around by Engineer D. R. Dun-widie.

Fireman Vogel has returned to work as stationary engineer at the round-house.

Engineer J. O. Sellick is off duty.

In his report he says, among other things: "I have made a careful study of the south Texas country now being opened up for settlement. My investigations were principally along the lines of the possibility of growing citrus fruits practically and profitably. There is no question in my mind that oranges, lemons, saffron, grape fruit, etc., can be grown almost anywhere from Beville south, and probably further north. I never had an opportunity to investigate the country farther north of Beville. While there may be reasons that will prevent going back the trees in the northern part of this district, yet I found that they recover their fruiting capacity in a surprisingly short time. For instance, I made notes of lemon trees cut to the ground in 1899 (an unusual hard winter in Texas) that have been bearing again for the past two or three years, and this year bore five boxes, or over one thousand lemons on each tree."

The orange trees were also cut down the same year and they have been bearing for a year or two; this year over six hundred oranges to the tree, and nearly as many last year. I saw orange trees planted five years ago that have been bearing for the last two or three years and this year have borne over 125 to 250 oranges each."

"The oranges and lemons are very fine, as to size, texture of skin, flavor, sweetness, pulp, etc., and are much earlier than the usual season for these fruit varieties. I found lemons and oranges of surprising quality points, all of which could be improved if the people knew how to cultivate the soil and take care of the fruit. I speak from a California experience and will be glad to go into this matter in detail at any time. Everything considered, I am convinced that you have a second California, and it will not take long to develop it. I am quite sure that seedling oranges and other fruits are at least four weeks earlier than California."

"At Skidmore I found orange trees five years old that had been bearing ever since they were two years old. At Beville I found the Pomelo grape fruit, one of the choicest of all citrus fruits, the tree was only five years old, but the fruit of 1899, yet had 100 or more splendid large fruit this year of good commercial size and quality. At Fairburn I saw very large new truck farming and winter gardening operations, on quite a large scale, everything, very promising, and artesian wells and reservoirs that are a guarantee of absolute success. At Alice, I was particularly pleased with climate and productive soil. I saw lemons and oranges, all of fine variety and flavor."

A Comparison.
Take the following figures, and compare them with the same months in Wisconsin and then deduce your own results.

January—In January when the northern farmers are snowed under south Texas is shipping lettuce, radishes, turnips, beets and such other.

Fireman Gestlund is laying off.

Engineer J. H. Shekey is laying off, being relieved on the Barrington turn-around by Engineer D. R. Dun-widie.

Fireman Vogel has returned to work as stationary engineer at the round-house.

Engineer J. O. Sellick is off duty.

er vegetables as are not easily hurt by frost. Texas gardeners are busily at work in preparing their fields for cauliflower, cabbage and onions. Texas farmers work out of doors every day in the year, and are rapidly moving to the land of sunshine, flowers, wealth and health.

February—In February the frost king still reigns supreme in all the northern states. In south Texas February is the beginning of spring. Flowers blooming, grass green, birds singing, while farm work goes steadily on. Corn and potatoes are planted in frames to be transplanted in March. Cauliflower, one of the most profitable crops, is being marketed as well as many other varieties of vegetables.

March—March is the most dreaded month in the north; the pneumonia month, which so many fear. With its snows and thaws and northeast rains, so deadly to people of weak constitution. The ground throughout the entire north is so much frozen that nothing can be done in out of door work. In fact it is about as much as people can do to keep warm in their houses. In south Texas March is the banner month for truck shipments from different points along the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railway. Mixed vegetables are rapidly moving by the carload, and cab-ages by the trainload. The truck farmer has money to sell, money to burn, but he don't like to smell the smoke.

Tomatoes, cucumbers, beans and all other tender vegetables make good growth in March. Cotton is planted in March. In many cases cotton is planted on cabbage land that has already yielded the produce from $100 to $300 per acre. This sounds like a fair tale, but the early shepherd gets the top prices, and these statements can be verified to anyone who will go and investigate for himself.

May—May in Texas, corn is nearly earled, wheat and oat harvest was on. In south Texas all kinds of vegetables, including corn and tomatoes were in abundance. May is the big onion month in south Texas. Many planters have netted as much as $400 per acre, while the lowest yield was $100 per acre. One firm sold onions from forty acres for $2,000, net profit. Wide-awake northern farmers would do well to make a personal investigation of the resources in the cotton country of Texas. The land is equal to any in the north and can be bought at a reasonable price, ranging from $15 to $25 an acre, location considered.

The Cool Breeze in Texas.
Many people in the north think the Texas people swelter and dry out on account of the hot weather, but those who know the truth understand quite the reverse. The writer spent sixty days of the hot season last year in the coast country in Texas, and it was claimed by old settlers to be the hottest season in many years. The highest point the thermometer reached any day was 82 in the shade. While the sun is hot in Texas, the same as elsewhere, yet we have a continual cool breeze which makes our summer more delightful and more pleasant than those in the north.

Is Texas Too Dry?
Weather bureau statistics show that the average rainfall in the Texas southwest is about 28 inches, the same as that of Omaha, 28 to 30 inches, but like other states, the rainfall does not always come at the right time nor in the proper proportions wanted. We will give statistics as taken at Alice this year, for each month.

CHICAGO WOODMEN AFTER THE PICNIC

Efforts Being Made to Secure Celebration Which Association Decided to Hold at Freeport.

Chicago Woodmen are making a strong effort to get the big picnic of the Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin M. W. A. Picnic association which was voted to be held at Freeport next summer. Chicago only recently entered the field of Woodcraft, having been barred from the organization prior to the last camp meeting held at Milwaukee in 1905. Since then deputies have been busy ever since gathering recruits for the great organization, now having 1,400 members. Freeport Woodmen took upon Chicago's effort to take the picnic away from it as a display of nerve, but they do not believe that a majority of the delegates from the three camps in the picnic association, of which the local lodge belongs, when they meet at Freeport in convention March 21st, will favor the move. The picnic has already been legally awarded to Freeport and preparations for the affair have now begun there.

DAYS LENGTHEN AT END NOT BEGINNING

Sun Rises But Minute Earlier Than
It Did Weeks Ago—Sets Later
Each Day, However.

Contrary to general belief the mornings are not lighter than for several weeks past, the almanac showing that the sun is now rising but one minute earlier than it did a week or two ago. The belief is that the day begins to lengthen at both ends after December 21, the shortest day, but this is not true and it will be some days before morning makes its appearance earlier. The days have been lengthening since December 10, but up to December 21 it was shortened at the morning end. The sun now sets a minute later each evening and Feb. 1 will set 35 minutes later than it did Jan. 1.

By the end of the month the sun will be rising 13 minutes earlier than at first.

FIVE ECLIPSES DURING YEAR 1906
Moon Goes into Total Darkness on Night of February 8.

The year 1906 will record five eclipses—three of the sun and two of the moon. The first will be a total eclipse of the moon, visible throughout North America. The shadow will reach the moon at 10:54 o'clock in the evening of February 8, and will come out into the clear again at 4:40 o'clock next morning. February 22 there will be a partial eclipse of the sun, visible only near the south pole. July 21 another partial eclipse of the sun will take place, which likewise will not be visible in this country. The second total eclipse of the moon will occur August 4. It will be visible only in the western portion of the United States just before sunrise, and in the same month, on the 19th, the moon will again be partly eclipsed by the sun's shadow, but the phenomena will be seen only by the inhabitants of northern Greenland and around the north pole.

Happiness in a Grain of Wheat

It Contains Every Food Element
Necessary for Man's Sustenance.
And Brings Perfect Health.

All authorities agree that fourteen elements are needed in the human body to sustain perfect health and that these must be supplied in the food taken into the system. Nature has provided us with one single article of food containing all of these fourteen elements in the exact proportions necessary to supply our bodies with vitality, strength and heat. This food, so wonderful in its composition, is wheat, and intelligent men and women are coming to realize more and more that it is the whole of the wheat is found the secret of health and happiness. Rich in the nitrates, or muscle-making elements, the carbonates, or heat-producing elements, and the phosphates, or brain and nerve-making elements, the whole grain of wheat supplies every necessity for man's body and mind.

This is how Malta-Vita came to be known as "The Perfect Food," for Malta-Vita is simply the whole of the wheat and a little salt, thoroughly steamed and cooked in absolute cleanliness, then mixed with pure barley malt extract, which converts the starch of the wheat into maltose, or malt sugar, an active digestive agent and very nutritious as well.

All grocers sell Malta-Vita. Large package, now 10 cents.

= FORTY YEARS AGO =

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, January 23, 1866.—James Harris & Co., New Foundry.—As an evidence of growth and prosperity of manufactures in our city, we have only to look around us at the enlargement of old and the erection of new manufacturing establishments. Among the latter is the new foundry lately built by James Harris & Co., of the Rock River Iron Works. This foundry is a model in every way, being admitted on all hands to be the best constructed and most conveniently arranged foundry in the State. The main building or moulding room is 52x64 feet. The windows are large and there are plenty of them. The upper portion of the building is also well supplied with windows to throw light on the moulding floors, and by means of cords and pulleys are opened to permit the escape of smoke and steam, on casting day. Through the center of the room is a gang way, into which the castings are placed from the different floors, or in the case of very heavy castings, a wagon can be driven in and loaded with a crane, which stands on one side of the gang way, directly opposite the cupola, and which is powerful enough to raise from ten to twelve tons. On the west side is the cupola room, which is 16x20 feet, two stories high. The fan blower is in the room just back of the cupola, from which it is conducted by cast-iron pipes to the coal and iron to be melted. The upper story is provided with a gang way, or inclined walk, to convey the iron or coal to the top of the cupola. Adjoining the main building on the west, and the cupola room on the south, is a wing 25x55 feet, one story high, which makes a front 115 feet on Center street. In this part is the machinery for cleaning castings, grinding facings, etc. The cores are made here, a large brick oven being convenient for baking them. The blacksmith shop is provided with a fan blower instead of common hand-bellows for blowing the forgers fire. It is also intended to put up a trip hammer for all kinds of light work and heavy forging, die work, etc. Near the cupola is an iron tank, always full of water, being supplied by power from a well in the main building. In fact, everything connected with this establishment is gotten up with a view of economy and convenience for doing good work. The melting capacity of the cupola is fifteen tons, and Messrs. Harris & Co. will contract to make castings, weighing anywhere up to ten tons, as well as can be done anywhere in the west. This foundry was commenced by the builders late in the fall and was done and in use two months after the workmen commenced framing the timbers. To Mr. R. R. Angell, the moulder partner of the firm, belongs the credit for the plan of this foundry in all its details. To Mr. J. M. Alford, who is one of the very best millwrights and pattern makers in the State, now permanently in Messrs. Harris & Co.'s employ, assisted by Mr. John Nelson, Foreman of the wood shop, must be given the credit of putting up the best frame building in this city, in two months, in a very unfavorable season of the year.

It is the intention of Messrs. Harris & Co. to hereafter supply promptly all demands made on them for castings and machinery. They can do with their increased facilities, having in addition to their new foundry, a machine shop 100 feet long by 25 feet wide, filled with the best quality of machinist's tools. The story above this is the wood shop which is provided with all the necessary first-class machinery for doing any kind of wood work. They intend, in addition to their celebrated patent cane mills, reapers, threshers, etc., to make engines, lathes, slotters, drills, and other machinist's tools, also Daniel's planers, scroll saws, boring machines, and other wood-working machinery, also steam engines, water wheels, mill work, and other kinds of machinery that may be called for. This establishment has a reputation for turning out good work, and the proprietors, being practical mechanics, and overseeing all their work, will no doubt keep the reputation already gained.

MILTON BENEFITED BY INCORPORATION

Taxes Lower and Service is Better Than Previous to Time Step Was Taken.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milton, Jan. 23.—The local village taxes are less than the same tax for similar purposes in the township, and no one can truthfully say that the service we are getting is not superior to that rendered prior to incorporation.

One of the noteworthy mines in this district is the Little Dick in the Cuba City camp near the Wicklow. People with limited means worked this mine in the early days and it produced in good quantities the finest quality of lead. It was operated by these people until water prevented further work. Messrs. Jarrett and Sickle of this city have recently taken up the work. They drilled several holes and found excellent ore in all. Recently Mr. Coon and other Milton parties have become interested in the mine and a corporation will be formed. A shaft will be sunk and preparations made for permanent mining in a few weeks.—Platteville correspondence in Milwaukee Sentinel.

Dr. Stillman was able to be down town Saturday for the first time in a week.

A STEADY DRAIN

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make You Ill, Languid and Depressed.

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life-giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Great Janesville can prove it.

E. C. Abbott, of 278 South Main St. Janesville, Wis., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and found great relief from kidney trouble and backache. My trouble was a very weak back and persistent attacks of backache which almost kept me to my bed. The use of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Peoples' Drug Co. has relieved me of these troubles, and I have every reason to recommend them."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh of the Bladder. Catarrh of the Bladder is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY, Toledo, O.

BRIEF NEWS FROM OLD ROCK.

OLD RESIDENT OF EVANSVILLE CALLED TO WORLD BEYOND

Mrs. Edwin Blakeley Succumbed Last Friday; And Body Was Laid At Rest Monday.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Jan. 23.—Mrs. Edwin Blakeley died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Addie Babcock, on Friday night, after a lingering illness.

The deceased was about seventy-five years of age and had been a resident of this community for many years.

She leaves three sons, Eugene, Will and Harry, and one daughter, Mrs. Addie Babcock, all of this city.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon and the remains were laid at rest in the Evansville cemetery.

The funeral services of Mrs. Agnes Ware were held in St. John's church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. F. G. Argus officiated and the vested choir, consisting of over twenty voices, rendered the song service. There were many beautiful floral designs, given by the vested choir, school children, Royal Neighbors, of which the deceased was a member, and friends.

On Sunday morning Rev. D. M. Smasher held a meeting in the seminary chapel devoted to the interests of the Chicago Orphanage Home, located at Woodstock, Ill., which he represents.

The St. Mary's Guild of St. John's church will hold a social at the home of Dr. J. M. Evans on Thursday evening, January 25. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Lucy Clifford is spending a few weeks with relatives and friends in Belvidere and Chicago.

"The newspaper size" of a store—the relative space of its advertisements, compared with those of its competitors—is more in the public mind than the actual size of its buildings or salesrooms.

The blizzard has come.

There is no question but Janesville appreciates what a fine day it was last Saturday.

Now it is up to the governor to appoint a good man as district attorney to serve out Mr. Newhouse's present term.

Professors from the universities of the "big western nine" were in conference in Chicago last week endeavoring to reform football.

There is not much to be said in approval of the cockfighting in which Janesville sports are characterized as having taken part in Madison.

Senator Spooner hit popular accord when he proposed a new warship, "Constitution," and Roosevelt voiced sentiment when he said "bully."

It is evident that in a state where there are eleven congressmen, if ten all vote one way the eleventh must be wrong in his views. How about it, Mr. Cooper?

In the resignation of W. O. Newhouse, as district attorney, Rock county loses an efficient and worthy official. Mr. Newhouse has proven himself to be a painstaking and careful district attorney and the best wishes of his many friends accompany him into his new field of labors.

THINK IT OVER.

Lethargy is a bad thing in a small town. Activity and energy well directed generally bring desirable results. When an evil exists it is wise to combat it, and in making the fight select with the greatest care the weapon that you use. Remember that the American people are home-loving, enterprising, patriotic folk, and their pride in their home is one of their dominant traits. It is selfishness that is the cause of many evils that exist. It is selfishness, the saving of a few cents or dollars that even cause a very excellent class of citizens to overlook their own interests, and to give their patronage to other than home institutions. The business men of a town should carefully weigh every reason that may influence those who should be their patrons in the sending of money away to foreign places. Residents of a town should make every effort to give their neighbors in the agricultural sections an understanding that they are as vitally interested in its progress as are the residents of the place.

FOREIGN TRADE.

Netherlands and Belgium, although among the smallest of the European countries, rank next to the United Kingdom, Germany, and France in their importance as markets for products of the United States. The United Kingdom is the largest European purchaser of American commodities, Germany next in rank, then France, then Netherlands, and then Belgium. The total exports from the United States to Netherlands amounted in the fiscal year 1905 to 73 million dollars, and our imports from Netherlands to practically 22 millions; our exports to Belgium in the same year were 38½ millions and our total imports therefrom practically 26 millions, giving us a total of 160 million dollars of trade with these two small countries, whose combined area is less than that of the state of Ohio and whose combined population is but twelve millions.

The total exports from the United States to these countries, as shown by the reports of the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics, were in 1905, 111½ million dollars, against 56 millions in 1895, and 43 millions in 1885. Our imports from the two countries in 1905 were practically 48 million dollars, against 25 millions in 1895, and 14 millions in 1885. The growth both in our exports to and imports from these two countries during the last decade has been larger than that of the preceding decade.

These figures of trade with Netherlands and Belgium are the official statements of our exports to and imports from those countries as supplied to the Bureau of Statistics from the various custom houses of the United States, and are based by those custom houses upon the statements supplied to them by the exporters and importers engaged in that commerce. Nevertheless there is reason to believe that in some particulars, especially in the matter of exports, the figures supplied by exporters to the custom houses, and thence to the Bureau of Statistics, are somewhat misleading. Netherlands and Belgium are great gateways through which large quantities of merchandise pass to countries lying farther east, including Germany, Russia, Austria, Hungary, and parts of France. While care is exercised by the customs authorities, and by the Bureau of Statistics to obtain accurate statements of the final destination of goods leaving the ports of the United States, or of those entering its ports, it is not improbable that considerable quantities of merchandise shipped to the ports of Netherlands and Belgium, and started as exports to those countries do, in fact, pass through those countries and on into those above named—Russia, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Switzerland, and eastern France—and that no inconsiderable quantities of goods from those countries arriving at the ports of Netherlands and Belgium, and shipped thence to the United States are accredited to the countries at whose ports they are placed on shipboard.

This conclusion seems to be justified by the large and rapidly growing trade with these small countries. It seems scarcely probable that a country with a little more than five million population, as is the case with Netherlands, should import 73 million dollars' worth of merchandise from a single country for the use of its own people exclusively, especially in view of the fact that Netherlands is not to any great extent a manufacturing country and does not require large quantities of raw material for her own people, as does the United Kingdom, whose imports from the United States are about as large in proportion to population as are those of Netherlands. The exports of the United States to Netherlands in the fiscal year 1905 were at the rate of about $14 per capita of Netherlands' population, and to the United Kingdom's population; and as Netherlands is neither a considerable manufacturing country nor so largely engaged in general commerce as is the United Kingdom, it seems reasonable to assume that a portion of the merchandise accredited to Netherlands finds its way through its network of waterways to the countries beyond. Belgium is a greater manufacturing country than Netherlands, and it is probable that a larger proportion of the merchandise from the United States is retained for use in manufacturing than is the case with Netherlands.

Copper, oleo oil, mineral oil, lard, corn, wheat flour, oil cake, leather, tobacco, lumber and timber, fruits and nuts, and raw cotton are the principal items in the 73 million dollars' worth of merchandise exported to Netherlands in the fiscal year 1905. Copper is by far the largest single item of these articles, amounting in 1905 to over 20 million dollars, as against 14 millions to Germany, 13 millions to the United Kingdom, and 11 millions to France. This fact that a larger value of copper goes to Netherlands, which is not a great manufacturing country, than is sent to any of the great manufacturing countries of the world, seems to justify the suggestion that a considerable part of certain classes of merchandise sent to Netherlands is destined finally for other markets. Next in order of magnitude in the exports of merchandise is "oleo oil" or oil produced from oleomargarine; and of this the value exported to Netherlands in 1905 was 6½ million dollars. Mineral oil was next in order, six and one-third millions in value; corn, 4 millions; flour, two and one-third millions; oil cake and oil-cake meal, 3 million dollars; cottonseed oil, 4 millions; lard, practically 5 millions; tobacco, about 1½ millions; lumber and timber, about 3½ millions; leather, a little over 1 million; raw cotton, 4¼ millions; and fruits and nuts, about 1¼ millions. These items above mentioned include nearly three-fourths of the total exports to Netherlands, the remainder being made up of smaller items, such as machinery, fertilizers, hides and skins, rosin, turpentine, bacon and hams, manufactures of wood, and sundry other articles still less in value.

Of our imports from Netherlands, which in 1905 amounted to about 22 million dollars, a very large proportion may be strictly classed as luxuries. The largest item of our imports from that country in 1905 was diamonds, cut and uncut, amounting to 9 million dollars, and the second item in importance was tobacco—suitable for cigar wrappers, amounting to about 5 million dollars. Thus about two-thirds of our total imports from Netherlands consisted of these two items, diamonds and cigar wrappers. Curiously, neither of these articles is a product of Netherlands, the diamonds being chiefly brought from South Africa to Amsterdam, and probably the largest diamond cutting city of the world, while the wrapper tobacco comes from its East Indian island, Sumatra, being brought from that island to Netherlands and thence exported to the United States. Next in importance in our imports from Netherlands after diamonds and wrapper tobacco are plants, largely tulip bulbs, of which Netherlands is a large producer, vegetable oils, herring, and coffee, the latter presumably, drawn from its great coffee-producing island in the East Indies, Java.

Exports to Belgium are more largely of the general class required by manufacturers than is the case in our exports to the Netherlands. Cotton forms the largest single item in our 38½ million dollars' worth of exports to Belgium, its value in that year being 6¼ million dollars; tobacco amounted to about 2 million dollars; mineral oil, nearly 2 million dollars; lumber, a little less than 1 million dollars; oil cake, 4 millions; lard, 2¼ millions; bacon and hams, 2¼ millions; turpentine, 1¼ millions; corn, 2¾ millions; and cattle, three-quarters of a million dollars in value.

Of the 26 million dollars' worth of imports into the United States from Belgium, diamonds and crude India rubber, the latter drawn from its Kongo country in South Africa, form by far the largest items. Rubber amounted in 1905 to 4½ million dollars, and diamonds and other precious stones to 6¼ millions; plate and other window glass amounted to over a million dollars in value; the various manufactures of iron and steel, about 1 million dollars; while manufactures of fibers, furs and fur skins, cement, laces, flax, hemp, and manufactures thereof, and manufactures of wool form the principal other items in our imports from Belgium.

PRESS COMMENT.

To Our Exhibitors.

Marquette Eagle-Star: If chicken fanciers can produce hens that will lay in winter they will be public benefactors.

Served The Base Usurper Right. Sheboygan Journal: A Plymouth man was badly burned while kindling the fire from a kerosene can. That's what happens to a man who usurps the functions of the hired girl.

People's Monitor On Deck. Chicago Tribune: Not only are the eyes of the people on the government departments at Washington, but Lincoln Steffens is snooping around there with his notebook.

Public Melancholy Anyway. Exchange: It is denied that Senator Depew has either aphasia or melancholia. As for the people, they are distinctly melancholy at the thought of having senators like Depew.

And That's A Consideration. Chicago Record Herald: Liquor and tobacco, according to the New York courts, may be legally sold to children who act as "agents" of adults. Agency in buying, however, leads to agency in consuming.

Compliment To Beantown. Milwaukee Sentinel: Sarah Bernhardt calls Boston "the Greece of America." This is a handsome tribute to the predominant Irish element at the Hub, that would have gratified the late Mayor Pat Collins.

Horse Might Tell Another Story. El Paso Herald: Riding is doing Taff good—he has managed to get rid of 20 of the 314 pounds he used to cart around with himself. How the horse feels about it has not been the subject of investigation.

Cabbage For Caesar. Milwaukee News: A writer in a Chicago newspaper is authority for the statement that Robert M. La Follette is a vegetarian. And all the time that he has been eating potatoes and cabbages, folks have been asking: "Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed?"

Politics To Be Cheap. Two Rivers Chronicle: The Milwaukee Free Press need not turn up its half-breed nose on account of "peanut politics." Politics is going to be cheap in future. The milking of the corporations has been stopped. In future campaigns democrats will be nearly on an equal financial footing with the republicans.

Let Us Be Patient. Appleton Crescent: Senator La Follette is yet to make his practical debut before the honorable senators, in a speech embodying some of his bobbles. But the junior senator may prove too wary to get caught putting his foot into it. Later during the session he may make the senatorial dry bones rattle.

Good-Birth For The "Col." Wausau Pilot: Col. John J. Hannan, who has so faithfully served Governor La Follette for three years as private secretary, will serve his chief in Washington as secretary of the newly created clerkship of the Potomac river committee. We congratulate the colonel upon this excellent opportunity, so quickly provided, wherein he may demonstrate at the present seat of war his great military genius and wonderful ability to do things.

Mild Over There Also. London Era: The extraordinary mildness of the winter is producing unusual and natural result in inciting the birds to an early pairing and a general interest in the neighborhood of their customary nesting-places, which is likely to occasion them much disappointment later. All the birds that nest in the early spring appear to be suffering under the delusion that the winter is over.

Wants It In The Reader. Madison Democrat: If the life of Marshall Field, the poor drygoods clerk who by honesty and industry attained the title of prince of merchants, amassed more than a hundred millions and insisted upon the full listing of his property for the purpose of taxation, were given place in the common school curriculum it would do more good than the memorizing of pages of Paradise Lost or the devotion of a year of study to German grammar.

Zion's Wallied City to Crumble. Madison Journal: Dr. Dowie abdicated his control of Zion City and now that community proposed to do away with some of its blue stocking laws and open the way for outside enterprises to come in. This may probably be regarded as the beginning of the end of Zion as a "walled city" and this is one of the most remarkable chapters in our history ending. That of a man by the force of a great personality alone almost could found and govern a big city on lines of community interest and biblical teaching—and that right under the shadow of Chicago—is indeed wonderful.

Bigelow's Stand Upheld

La Crosse Leader-Press: It can make no possible difference who told Pontney Bigelow the stories about the Panama canal he published in his magazine article, and if he got his information in confidence he would not be justified under any circumstances in divulging the names of those who confided in him. The only question is whether or not the stories are true. Secretary Taft, to whom the president referred the matter, has issued a statement claiming that they are false. Bigelow sticks to his charges and asserts that they are entirely true. If he is right it is very important, and it should be made clear. If he is wrong, and has made sensational charges, based upon insufficient investigation, that is important, too, and should be made evident in the interests of harmonious and peaceful canal construction. But Bigelow is absolutely right in refusing to tell the names of his informants, if, as he says, they gave their information in confidence and it would be damaging to them to have the fact that they had talked made public.

Origin of "This Indenture."

Legal documents were once engrossed on parchment because paper cost so much more than dressed skin. The parchment was seldom trimmed exactly and the top was scalloped with the knife, hence the term "this indenture." Even where the lawyers have departed from the custom, still obtaining in England, of using parchment for their legal forms, the phrase has been retained.

De Lesseps' Perseverance. When Ferdinand de Lesseps began to talk of cutting the Suez Canal no one believed him, and as a matter of fact, as he himself confessed, he was on the wrong track at first. But gradually his forceful optimism persuaded individual after individual, and then nation after nation, that the thing could and should be done, despite the belief of great engineers that the task was impossible.

Like It, but Different. The capital of a western state had been relocated at a small county-seat village where an old-time exporter preached every Sunday with increasing enthusiasm as the building boom enlarged his congregation. He wanted a big revival, and urged all to join in the Christian work, saying vehemently: "The Christian work is just like any other work, only it is very different."—Magazine of Fun.

What She Means. When a married woman says she has all the rights she wants, what she really means is that she has a good husband. In America most men are so much better than the law that most women never find out how bad the law is.—Woman's Journal.

"MRS. BLACK IS BACK" MAY IRWIN'S VEHICLE

Presented Before a Large Audience at Myers Theatre—A Farce by George V. Hobart

"MRS. BLACK IS BACK" While the feminine element of the audience at the Myers theatre last evening fairly raved over May Irwin, finding delight in every word she said—even the box-office announcement which gave to "art" a rather mercenary ring—and the way she said it, and declaring that she and her production pleased them better than any other actor, actress, or play that had been brought to Janesville in two seasons, the male contingent as a whole did not go into transports of enthusiasm. Many, it is true, were swayed in the same degree as the women by her whimsicalities of facial expression and gesture, her contagious laugh, and her natural, conversational, and confidential method of delivering clever lines as if they were her own and had just occurred to her. But there were others who commented thusly: "Good, certainly, but it's all May Irwin—right in the centre of the stage all the time—the rest dangle about her presence like puppets" or, "She is too sure of herself—too masterful," or "Bet she has a ripping old temper—how'd you like to have one of that type round the house?" All of which would seem to indicate that some treasured ideal of the womanly woman, however notional and unworthy, was trampled on. Certain it is that this ample actress, as and would be commander-in-chief wherever she is or might be placed. Gallery, balcony, and orchestra alike, rejoiced in the coon songs and mourned that there were not more of them. There was sufficient plot to the farce to make it interesting and several of the character delineations were very good. Louis Foley had the presence and lines for his role of the physical culturist but his jargon of slang, had it been delivered less glibly, would have been more effective. Johnston Burr was amusing as Jack Dangerfield, the "ten year old son," and John E. Huzzard made the most of his role of Mrs. Black's son's valet. Roland Carter adequately played the part of that dull-witted nonentity, Mrs. Black's second husband, and Victor Casmore was a convincing Mexican gambler.

Lottie Dillon was very charming as the sweetheart of Dangerfield and Jane Burby made an excellent impression as Mrs. Black's sister.

Water Supply Decreases. A shrinkage in the world's water supply has been predicted by M. Martel, the French explorer of caves, in a lecture. Through the erosion and corrosion of the earth surface, he said, the water level is being continually lowered, and unless measures for preventing this were adopted, a large part of the world will a few centuries hence die of thirst.

Why Not Bury Them? The ancient stocks which have recently been placed in the Oswaldtwistle (Eng.) parish churchyard formerly stood near some old property in the center of the village. One of the stoops had a big piece chipped off. The vicar of the parish noticed this, and obtained permission to have them restored and placed in the churchyard.

Three Wives Meet. An Arkansas City man who had twice been divorced took his third wife to the theatre recently. His two earlier wives have become good friends, and when the couple took their seats the man looked around, and to his consternation, saw he had three wives in a row beside him.

Peddler's Rob Auto. Two street peddlers in Bradford, England, bought a horse for $1125. It was killed by a motor car one day, and the owner of the car paid them $115 for the loss. Thereupon a new industry sprang up on the roads of England.

ENJOYED HIMSELF.

After sitting in the dental chair for over an hour last Saturday one of our well-known business men got up, stretched himself, and said:

"Dr. Richards, I don't know how I could have spent a more enjoyable hour than I have with you today."

Just think of that.

After his tooth had been cut off, the nerve extracted, and a crown put on.

Enjoyed himself.

That don't look like he had been hurt much, does it?

That's how people feel who employ Dr. Richards to do their dentistry.

Because he studies how NOT TO HURT his patients.

MANY CANDIDATES IN RACE FOR POSITION

Cunningham, Fisher, Richardson, Earle, Jones and Adams Are Talked Of.

With the resignation of W. O. Newhouse as district attorney the field is open for the appointment of a successor from among the lawyers of Rock county. While it is probable that a Janesville attorney will be appointed by Governor Davidson there is a possibility that some other city may demand recognition and succeed in luring the plum. Attorney John Cunningham went to Madison yesterday with good endorsement and presented his plea for the office with his recommendations from members of the bar and judges. Governor Davidson made no appointment and will take the matter under consideration before announcing his selection. At torney John L. Fisher has been mentioned for the position and in view of the fact he was a candidate for the nomination at the last county convention and has strong endorsement by politicians and members of the bar may be counted as a factor. Marshall P. Richardson is also spoken of in this connection, as is Judge Jesse Earle. Evansville appears to have a candidate in the person of Fred Jones and Beloit in Harry Adams. The firm of Rosa and Adams, L. E. Gettle of Edgerton was talked of last evening, but it is understood this morning that Mr. Gettle has announced he is not a candidate. Petitions to the Governor for the appointment of both John Cunningham and J. L. Fisher were circulated this morning and last evening, and widely signed. It is a fight for the members of the La. Polite element of the republic can party to decide and it is not probable that the conservatives will mix in the matter in any way. Mr. Newhouse's resignation came as a surprise to everyone and matters have not yet adjusted themselves to the conditions which arise.

From Madison
Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—Four candidates are being pushed for district attorney of Rock county—John Cunningham and John L. Fisher of Janesville and Theodore D. Woolsey of Beloit. The latter is recommended by F. W. Livermore, chairman of the county board. Postmaster Valentine, State Veterinarian Roberts and others are closeted with Governor Davidson now.

Are Closeted
A delegation consisting of C. L. Valentine, ex-Postmaster Nowlan, Frank Starr, M. P. Richardson and Dr. E. D. Roberts had an hour talk with Davidson in behalf of Fisher. Richardson says he is not a candidate.

Ernest Shoemaker's flight urged on by revolver shots.

After a little wrestling match he precipitated with Officer Bear.

Ernest Shoemaker, employed as a bartender at the Podewell saloon on Academy street, and Officer Robert Bear had a little mix-up near the corner of Pleasant and Franklin streets about one o'clock Monday morning.

It appears that Shoemaker gave an insolent answer when questioned by the officer and this led to a wrestling match which landed the two in the road. Shoemaker presently broke away and took to his heels down the street and Officer Bear fired two shots upwards in the hope of speeding the flight.

FORTIETH WEDDING CELEBRATED SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Liddell Hosts on Anniversary of Their Marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Liddell celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their wedding Sunday, at their home, 206 1/2 North Bluff street. An enjoyable reunion of near relatives was held and a sumptuous dinner was served. About a dozen were guests and upon departing left many handsome and beautiful gifts as reminders of the pleasant occasion and tokens of esteem. The event was an exceptional pleasant one for two of those present. Mr. Liddell and Mrs. Cannon of California, who had not met until then for the past nineteen years. Mr. and Mrs. Liddell were married in Beloit, Sunday, January 21, 1866. They were both residents of Janesville, living on Chatham street, and made the trip to the Line City that day where Rev. Mr. Parmley of the First Baptist church pronounced the ceremony that united them. Two children blessed the union, Arthur K. Liddell, who lives in the city, and Miss Louisa M. Liddell of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Liddell also take much delight in their grandson, Kent Liddell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Liddell. The happy couple are old residents of the city and highly respected by all.

"BOBBIE" BURNS DAY TO BE REMEMBERED

Caledonia Society Is to Celebrate the Famous Scotch Poet's Natal Day.

The annual observance of the birthday of "Bobbie" Burns is to be of unusual interest this year. The Caledonia society have always marked this day most fittingly and Wednesday, January 24th, will be no exception. In fact, arrangements are complete for a festival and dance at Central hall which bids well to outlive the successful occasions of the past.

A very fine program has been prepared and the committees in charge have left nothing undone to make the evening one long to be remembered. The Burns festival has always been heralded by those who enjoy good times, so that Wednesday evening will be inviting to the public. After the program a dance takes place, for which Kneff & Hatch's full orchestra has been engaged.

Funeral services over the remains of the late John S. Gordon were held from the home of B. M. Budelin, 102 Milton avenue, this afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. R. C. Denison officiated and a song service was rendered. The pallbearers were: Ezra Dillenbeck, David Clark, Henry Rogers, H. P. Bronson, Laban Fisher and George Chapman. Interment was in Oak Hill.

Greater America Club: At the Congregational church parlors at 6:30 this evening the Greater America Club will enjoy a supper, followed by a program which is expected to be of unusual interest. Several speakers outside of the club will be heard from.

REAL REASON FOR A DELAY IN THE PLAY

Manager Myers Makes a Statement as to Why the Curtain Staid Down so Long.

So much criticism was expressed last evening over the wait between the first and second acts of the May Irwin production that it is but fair to Manager Myers to state his side of the controversy with the manager of the company. The trouble did not arise over too many free tickets, but through a reduction of the scale of prices of the seats, which directly benefited the patrons of the house and company by increasing the attendance. It would appear that Mr. Ernfeld, the manager of the Irwin company, was entirely to blame for the delay and that Manager Myers was the victim and indirectly the arre-patron. In speaking of the matter this morning, Manager Myers said: "I wish you would express my regret at the unfortunate occurrence last evening. The delay was caused by Miss Irwin's manager, Mr. Ernfeld, who refused to allow the curtain to rise at the end of the first act until certain matters relative to the price of seats was settled. There was no question as to too many free seats, but to the fact I lowered the price of seats in the balcony and the rear of the house downstairs in trying to accommodate the general public. Mr. Ernfeld also claimed that my contract with the New York office for the booking was changed and demanded I pay eighty per cent of the gross receipts instead of seventy-five, as my contract called for. Rather than stop the performance and refund the money to my patrons, turning them out in the storm, I told Mr. Murdoch to pay the difference demanded, and then a further delay was caused by Mr. Ernfeld's refusing to permit the curtain to rise until the statements were made out. I regret the occurrence greatly, but desire to thank the audience for their patience in waiting so quietly until the matter was adjusted. Had it not been so stormy, I might I should have explained the situation to the audience and refunded the money at the box office rather than have been held up in the manner I was. Other gentlemen conversant with the dispute severely criticize the management of the company."

The Oyster
Did you ever stop to trace it from oyster bed to table? If so you will realize that the quickest and most direct route is alone desirable.

The mixing, washing and icing in big vats and tanks, so common in the large jobbing centres, is very objectionable and should be eliminated to have oysters right.

We get our oysters by fast express, direct from the shuckers on the coast. They come in their own liquor as emptied from the shell, in large pails, packed on the inside to prevent contamination from the wood.

When you get oysters of us you get them fresh, with all of the oyster flavor—it hasn't been washed out—and the only handling is our dipping them into the paper buckets for delivery to your home.

TAKES OVER THE OLD BELOIT COMPANIES

New Concern That Combines All the Public Utilities in the Line City.

The articles of incorporation for the Beloit Water, Gas and Electric Light company were filed with the register of deeds Monday, and as soon as the stockholders organize under the law they will take over the three utilities and operate them as one company. The capital stock is $600,000 of which $100,000 is preferred. The new company will expend nearly $200,000 in extensions and the enlargement of their business. It is said that Cincinnati men will furnish the capital.

The water-works of the city are owned principally by C. B. and E. P. Salmon. They have a long time franchise and the business is said to be profitable. The surprise is that they would part with their interests. The gas works were principally owned by Joseph Hendley. It is an old established plant with a franchise, but no contract with the city.

Coal at Spitzbergen.

According to a recent report coal mining has been commenced on the west coast of Spitzbergen. The discovery of coal is one of the results achieved by the Swedish expedition sent out to study the geology of Spitzbergen. About two hundred tons of coal were mined this summer, of which ninety tons were taken by a Spitzbergen whaling company.

"Vaudeville."

The name "vaudeville" is understood to be a corruption of Vaux de Vire, the name of two picturesque valleys in the Bocage of Normandy, and as originally applied to a song with words relating to some story of the Vire. These songs were first composed by one Oliver Basselin, a puller of Vire; they were very popular and spread all over France, and were called by the name of their native place, (Les Vaux de Vire).

WE ARE CRAZY!

Not in fact, we hope, but in the desire to dispose of an immense amount of high-class merchandise before March 1st. We're doing it, too. Hundreds of people are taking advantage of this greatest of all bargain events. We've forgotten, for the time being, that there ever was such a thing as profit, and great quantities of our immense stock have been marked down to cost and below cost. The result has been the most wonderful sale in the history of the Ziegler store. This is putting it pretty strong, for we've had some good ones in days gone by. People know that when we advertise bargains, that they are the real things; no "fake" sales here. Of course, we're not doing this through any philanthropic desire on our part but the mild fall and winter weather has left us with lots of goods that must not be in the store at inventory time. The time has come when price is not allowed to stand in the way of quick and decisive clearance of everything in the stock. THE GOODS MUST MOVE. At our regular prices every item here named has a very good value; at the present prices they are wonderful bargains.

Boys' $8.00 Fancy Belted Overcoats, very stylish, go at 6.25

SPECIAL At the commencement of the Clearing Sale, we placed on our counters a large quantity of the Wilson Bros, Manhattan, Elgin, Columbia and Peyser soft and stiff bosom, white and fancy shirts which were sold formerly at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00 each, and advertised them at 69c. We had an immense sale on them. We later advertised all those left at 50c. Down they go again. Note the sizes left. If you are fortunate enough to find your size, you can have them 22-14 10-14½ 2-15 4-15½ 2-16 25 16½ 8-17 14-17½ 2-18, now at 25c each

Big Reductions prevail on every Suit and Overcoat during this sale. The greatest Clearance Sale in the history of our store is now in full blast. It will be like putting money in your pocket to visit us before making a purchase anywhere, as our prices cannot be touched elsewhere.

Carefully note every price in this ad. Some of the articles are bound to be closed out when you come, but bring this copy with you, call for what you want, and the Ziegler guarantee says that if it is in the store, you shall have it at the price advertised, whether we lose money on it or not.
